ARE YOU INVESTING...

OR JUST REACTING?

In investing, discipline creates wealth.
Impulse often creates noise.

Financial markets move daily. News flashes, social media updates, and opinions circulate constantly.

Amid this noise, it becomes easy to mistake motion for progress.

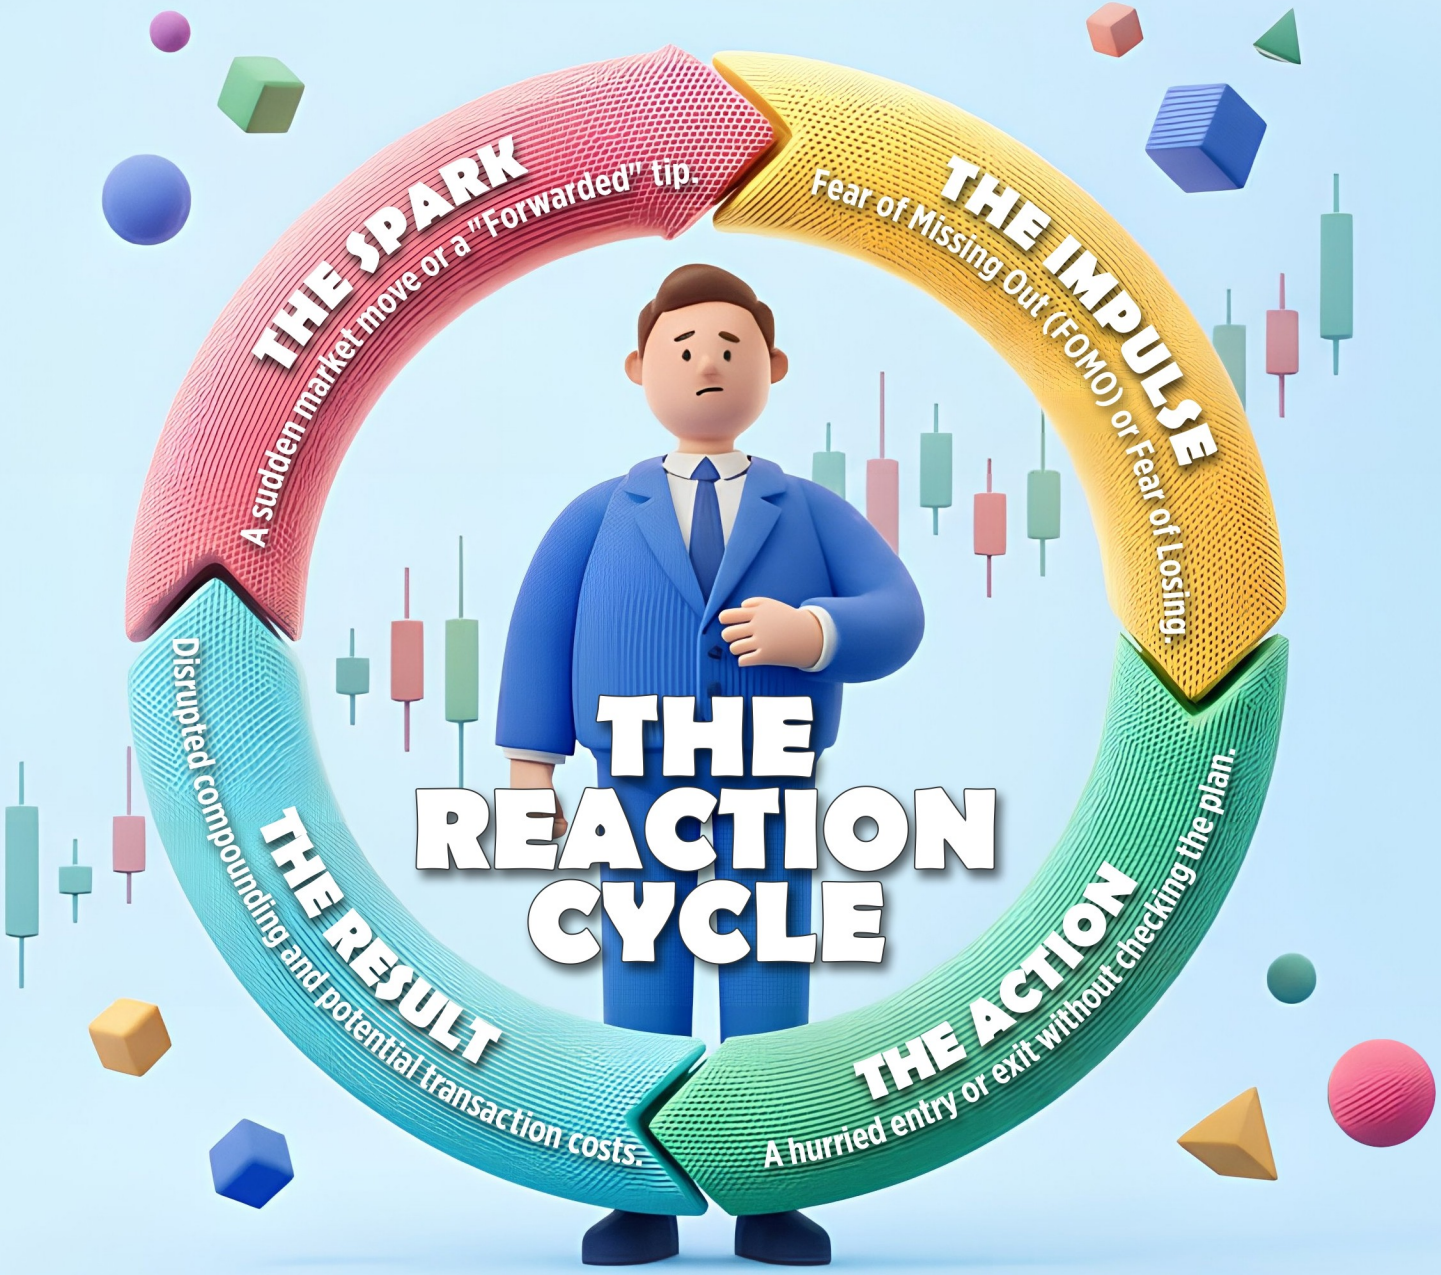

This is a gentle reminder to pause and reflect — are your decisions driven by long-term objectives or short-term headlines?

THE PATTERN MOST INVESTORS DON'T NOTICE

Frequent reaction to short-term events may disrupt long-term compounding.

CHOOSING STRATEGY OVER SENTIMENT

THE REACTOR	THE INVESTOR
Chases the recent "Top Performer"	Follows a pre-set Asset Allocation
Exits when the headlines turn red	Accepts volatility as part of market cycles
Acts on "Urgency"	Acts based on "Suitability and Allocation"

Long-term wealth creation generally rewards discipline over impulse.

YOU DON'T NEED MORE INFORMATION.
YOU NEED BETTER FILTERS.

THE REALITY

We are surrounded by constant information, but clarity is limited.

THE SOLUTION

A structured approach evaluates information in the context of your financial objectives.

THE VALUE OF HUMAN OVERSIGHT

A financial distributor helps filter information before it influences decisions.

A financial distributor helps act as a decision filter - evaluating information before it impacts your portfolio.

BEFORE MAKING ANY INVESTMENT DECISION...

Ask ?

- Does this align with my long-term financial objectives?
- Has my risk profile changed?
- Am I responding to emotion or strategy?
- Have I discussed suitability with my distributor?

A THOUGHT TO CARRY FORWARD

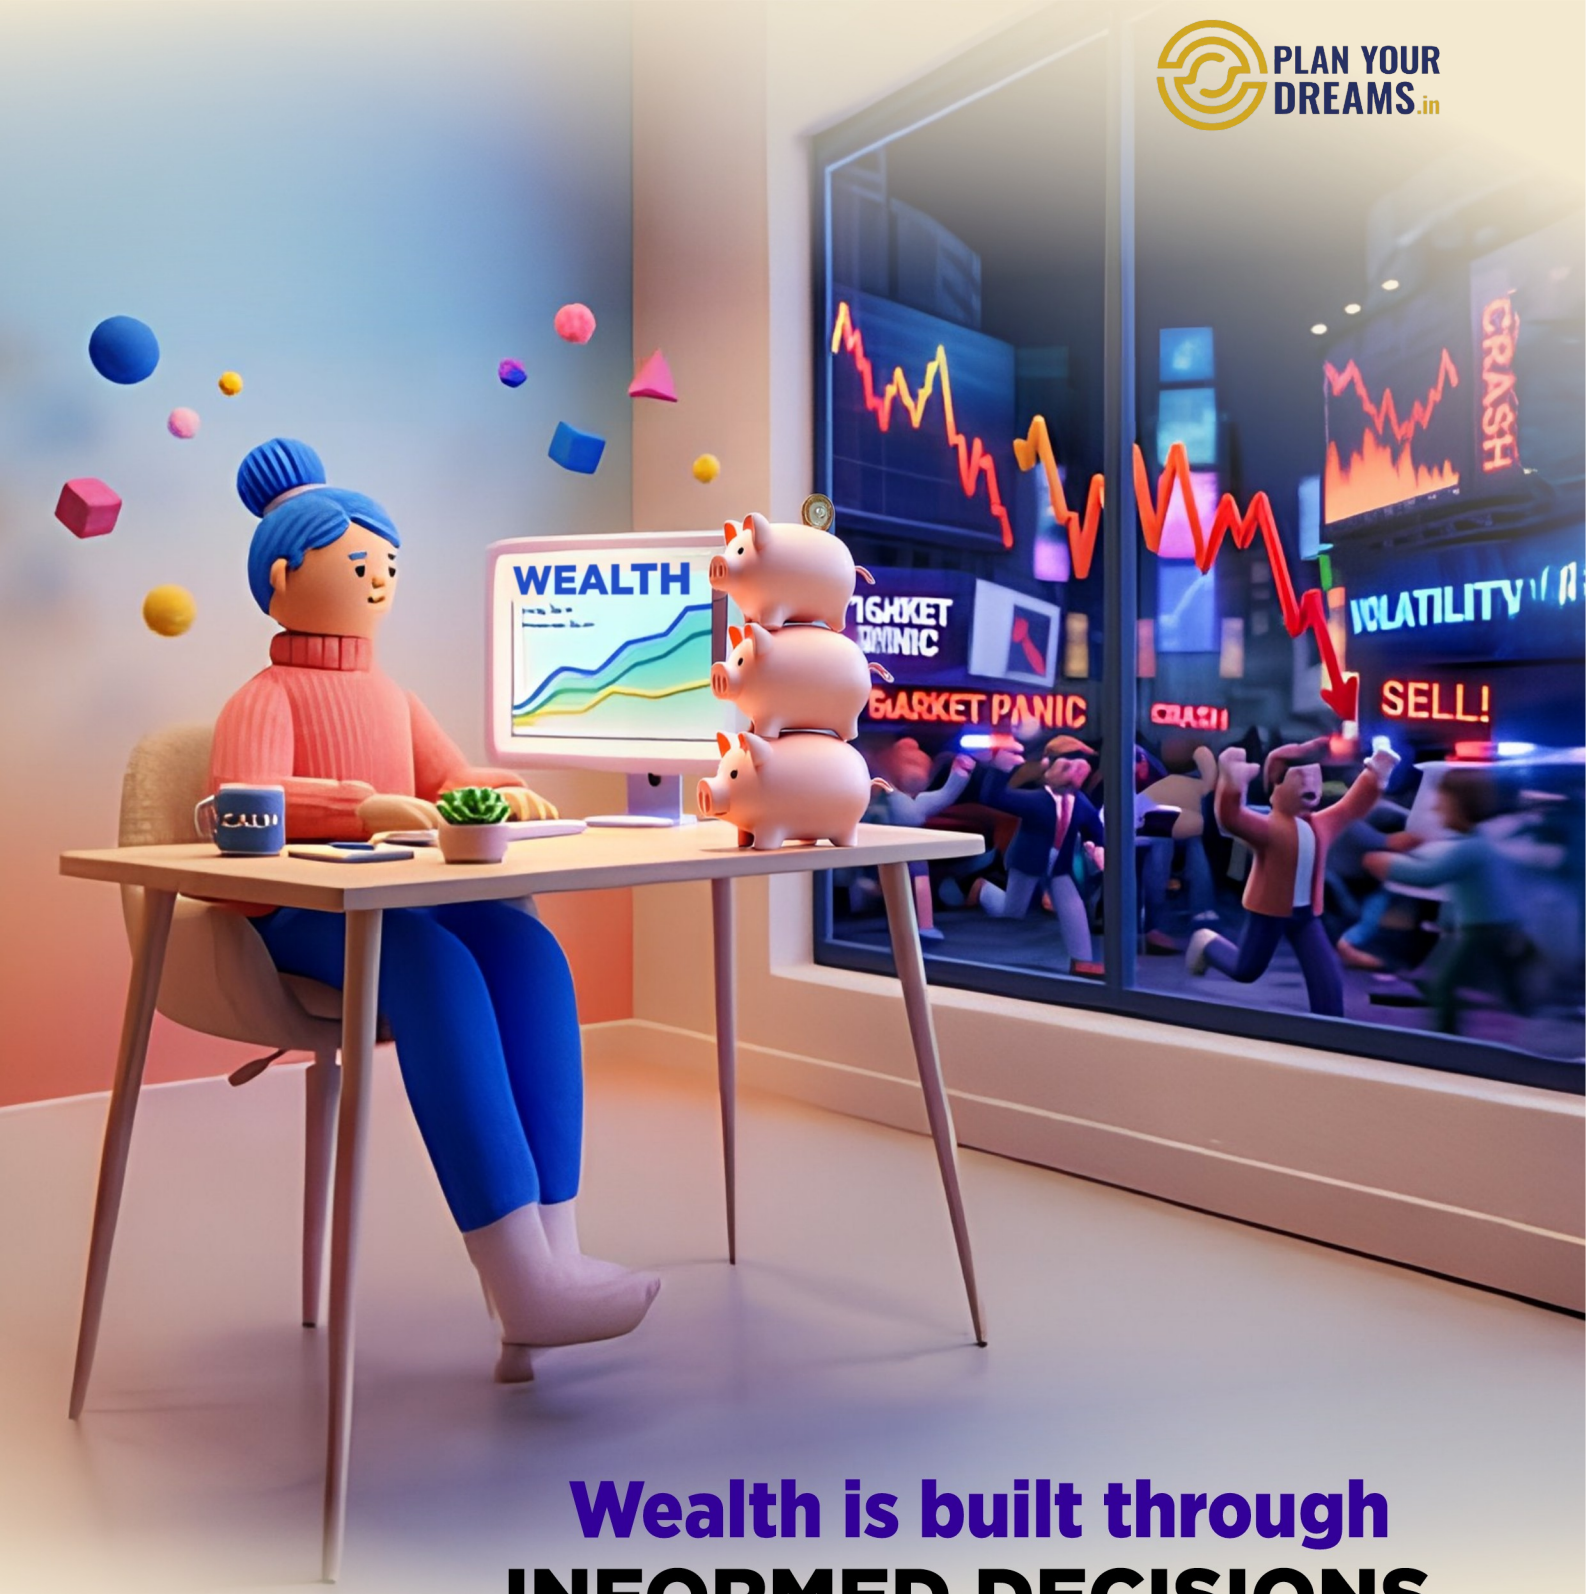

Market movements are temporary. Financial goals are long-term.

A disciplined approach can help reduce emotional decisions and support more consistent outcomes over time.

If you wish to review your current investments, you may consider discussing suitability with your financial distributor.
